

Insurance Coverage

Our Insurance Coverage attorneys have extensive experience representing insurance companies and their insureds. Two of our partners have acted as national coordinating counsel for major property and casualty insurers. Our attorneys have represented insurers and reinsurers in a wide variety of matters, including environmental, mass tort and other long-tail claims.

Our insurance coverage attorneys provide a wide range of counseling and litigation services for insurers by undertaking a thorough, detailed and understandable evaluation of a broad range of disputed insurance policies to assess disputed policy provisions objectively and help resolve complex coverage questions. If a claim of bad faith is asserted, our attorneys are experienced in providing aggressive and cost effective assessments of the many complex legal, regulatory, coverage and claims history issues to help our clients understand the risks and develop and implement a comprehensive dispute resolution strategy.

The attorneys involved in Insurance Coverage regularly engage in negotiations, mediations, arbitrations, and trials, and they have the skill, experience, resources, judgment and work ethic necessary to resolve complex insurance coverage disputes effectively and efficiently through settlement, dispositive motions in advance of trial or trial to a final order or award.
